

St. Mary's Was Host To Religious Teachers at Regional Conference

General Topic of Consideration and Discussion For Meeting Held Here Was "The Place of English in the Curriculum."

TOPICS DISCUSSED

Sister Roberta, Principal of St. Mary's School, Gives Interesting Address on "Oral English."

A recent outstanding event in the field of Catholic education in the New York Archdiocese was the semi-annual conference of religious teachers of Ulster, Putnam, Sullivan, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Westchester counties held in this city on Saturday, November 21, in the auditorium of St. Mary's School. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Michael J. LeVelle, P. A. V. C., presided, and in his usual charming manner welcomed the religious teachers. The Very Rev. John J. Stanley, P. R. V. F., Dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, also warmly welcomed the unusually large attendance to the hospitality of St. Mary's for the day. Among those present were the Very Rev. Msgr. Henry O'Carroll, Dean of Orange and Rockland counties, the Very Rev. Stephen Connolly, Dean of Putnam and Dutchess counties; the Very Rev. John Campbell, the Rev. Louis Cusack, the Rev. William McCarty, C. S. R., the Rev. Edmund Hart, the Rev. Francis Borowski, the Rev. Daniel Fant, the Rev. Francis Petry, the Rev. Cajetan Troy, the Rev. James P. Moore, the Rev. William Kennedy, and the Rev. Benjamin Roth.

The Rev. William R. Kelly, LL. D., superintendent of schools of the archdiocese of New York, introduced the general topic of consideration and discussion for the meeting, namely, "The Place of English in the Curriculum." In his preliminary address, Father Kelly stressed the fact that, while religion is the core of the curriculum, English is the subject of major importance. He voiced the opinion that a school is a failure if it does not teach English with success. The ways and means of securing this success were ably treated in the following addresses: "Oral English"—by Sister Miriam Roberts, Sisters of Charity, Principal of St. Mary's School, Kingston. "Written English"—by Sister M. Ruth Catherine, O. S. F., Loretta School, Cold Spring. "The Use of the Dictionary"—by Sister M. Ruth, O. P., St. Mary's School, Poughkeepsie. In developing the topic "Oral English," Sister Roberts pointed out that if the practice of oral English is made habitual during the child's school life, the pupil will take with him into his later life the invaluable power of expressing his opinions easily and forcefully before any group of people among whom he may find himself. Dramatization as an important vehicle for oral expression was strongly urged. Taking on the personality of another, as one must do in dramatization, gives an easy solution to the problem of doing away with self-consciousness and timidity, the bane of so many men and women, whose business careers have been hampered by these handicaps. The employment of an oral English Club modeled on parliamentary lines and characterized by regularity and well-defined plan was suggested as a stimulating activity to promote interest, enthusiasm and skill in oral expression.

Sister M. Ruth Catherine in her address "Written English" stressed the fact that if drill is early motivated towards the acquisition of both the sentence sense and the proper understanding of word meanings, then successful teaching will be able to build her grammatical and vocabulary edifice upon a very solid foundation. It was further stated that it is the duty of the English teacher to try to instill habits of good reading in early training in order that the children may be able to write well.

Sister Mary Ruth in dealing with the topic "The Use of the Dictionary," clearly showed that it is

Labor Prepares Tentative Program for 1937 Legislature, Urges Security, New Wage Law

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—Organized labor prepared today a tentative program for presentation to the 1937 legislature, urging enactment of the remaining seven points of Governor Lehman's social security plan and a new minimum wage law for women now being drafted by the state administration.

The executive council of the State Federation of Labor will assemble here December 8 and 9 to consider the agenda, most of which was outlined at the 32nd annual convention of the federation at Syracuse last August. The program is also expected to recommend: State housing and regulation of tenement employment agencies. Abolition of strike-breaking detective agencies and labor spies. ### A. F. of L. Backs New NRA Substitute Act

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor went on record today in favor of the O'Mahoney industrial licensing bill, an NRA substitute. The bill would compel all corporations doing an interstate business to obtain a federal license and to conform to government-fixed wage and hour standards. Introduced by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), the bill died in Senate committee. William Green, A. F. of L. president, said it would be reintroduced. The federation convention voted unanimously today to give all possible "moral and financial" assistance to the strike against Remington-Rand, Inc., office equipment concern. Awaiting a report from the resolutions committee on the John L. Lewis revolt, expected late today, the convention heard Vernon Crofoot of Syracuse, N. Y., accuse

Broadway Theatre Sold in Foreclosure For Sum of $247,000

The Broadway Theatre was sold in a mortgage foreclosure sale at the courthouse this afternoon for the sum of $247,000. It was bid in by Walter F. Rogers of Mr. Vernon representing the Bessley Corporation of New York city. The sale was held by Referee George Kaufman in a foreclosure action brought by the Kingston Trust Company against the Kingston Theatre Corporation and others.

Prior to the sale Harry H. Fleming of this city stated he appeared for P. J. and J. R. Rooney, attorneys for the Huguenot Trust Company of New Rochelle, representing the second mortgage bondholders and that they had made an application to open a default in the case, and had also appeared from the order granted by Justice Foster authorizing the sale of the theatre at mortgage foreclosure.

State's Part in New Social Security Act of U. S. Government

(Editor's Note: The Freeman presents a story describing New York state's participation in the social security act.)

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—New York, a pioneer state in caring for the needy and unemployed, is functioning under two sections of the federal social security act—unemployment insurance and old age pensions.

Between 150,000 and 175,000 employers are required to pay a tax under each of the sections, beginning with one per cent on payroll the first year, two per cent the second and three per cent the third.

Payments to the state's unemployment insurance fund, affecting employers of four or more workers, began last January 1, while those to the federal fund, involving employers of eight or more, will commence next January 1, simultaneously with the old age pension levy applying to all employers irrespective of the number of employees.

Under the old age pension act, however, employers must contribute in equal amounts. They are not required to contribute to the jobless fund. It is estimated there are 3,000,000 workers in the state.

Employers of eight or more persons must make returns to both state and federal funds, but when the federal levy begins January 1 they will be permitted to deduct up to 90 per cent of the total tax paid during 1936 to the state.

Huge State Fund Seen

The state fund will total $25,000,000 by the end of the year, Director Glenn A. Bowers of the state unemployment insurance division estimates, and will amount to $100,000,000 at the end of three years when benefits to the jobless will begin.

In event the Supreme Court of the United States declares the law unconstitutional, the contributions must be returned.

Neither the workers nor their employers will be permitted to deduct the social security taxes from their net income taxes. On the other hand, the benefits received in old age pensions or unemployment compensation will not be subject to any legal process, such as garnishment or bankruptcy.

Farmers and their farm hands constitute one of the large groups exempt from the tax provisions of the security act. Other exemptions cover federal, state, city, town and village employees, social service workers, teachers and household servants.

Benefits under the unemployment insurance act will not be available to non-manual workers receiving $50 or more a week, or $2,000 a year.

Under the New York act, eligible unemployed wage earners are to receive after January 1, 1937, weekly benefits equal to 50 per cent of their normal weekly wage, with $15 set as a maximum, and a first dollar a week as a minimum, with the number of weeks of benefits to be paid to depend upon the number of days worked during the preceding year but not to exceed 16 weeks.

Under this act a person not an eligible unemployed person will receive one week of benefits for each 15 days of unemployment in the preceding 12 months. To be eligible for unemployment benefits in January, 1937, the wage earner must have worked in an employer covered by the act for at least 30 days in the preceding months or 140 days in the preceding 24 months.

Minor Gets Adjournment

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—William H. Milne, 48, of McColland avenue, Schenectady, stock salesman arrested in Albany today in connection with an investigation by Dutchess county authorities into an alleged stock fraud, appeared before City Judge Charles Corbally here today and was granted an adjournment until November 26 for preliminary examination. Charged with grand larceny in the second degree Milne was represented in court by Frank Pedlow, attorney of 100 State street, Albany. Bail was fixed at $2,500, in default of which the defendant was committed to the county jail.

Recommend Employees U. S. Supreme Court Says Be Reinstated to Jobs At Clermont Cravat Co. New York Unemployment Measure is Constitutional

Trial Examiner Gates Gives Conclusions and Recommendations in Case Brought Here Against Local Neckwear Company.

EXAMINER'S REPORT

Recommended That Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman Be Reinstated to Positions.

It has been recommended to the Clermont Cravat Company, local neckwear company occupying quarters in the former American Cigar Factory building on Broadway and Pine Grove avenue, that the company offer to Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman immediate and full reinstatement to their former positions without prejudice to their seniority or other rights and privileges previously enjoyed. These recommendations, among others, were handed down in the report of Trial Examiner Robert M. Gates, as the result of a trial to determine why the two were dismissed by the factory.

The charges against the local neckwear company, which were heard here on July 20 last, were that Jacob J. Schneider, a cutter, and Mabel Chapman, a stitcher, were dismissed from their employment for activities in union organizing at the local plant. It was the first dispute between employee and employer to be heard in Ulster county before the National Labor Relations Board.

Upon the basis of findings and facts, Examiner Gates in his intermediate report gives the following conclusions and recommendations:

Conclusions and Recommendations. Upon the basis of the foregoing findings of fact, the undersigned hereby determines and concludes:

Respondent by urging, persuading and warning its employees in the Kingston plant from becoming or remaining members of or assisting a labor organization known as the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, by discharging and refusing to employ Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman, and thus discouraging membership in the labor organization known as the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and by interfering with, restraining, and coercing its employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act, as set forth in the above findings of fact, has engaged in and is engaging in an unfair labor practice affecting commerce within the meaning of Section 8, subdivision (1), and Section 2, subdivisions (6) and (7) of the National Labor Relations Act.

Respondent by discharging and refusing to employ Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman, and by discriminating in regard to hire and tenure of their employment to discourage membership in the labor organization known as Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, as set forth in the above findings of fact, has engaged in and is engaging in an unfair labor practice affecting commerce within the meaning of Section 8, subdivision (3), and Section 2, subdivisions (6) and (7) of the National Labor Relations Act.

Wherefore, the undersigned recommends that:

Respondent cease and desist from interfering with, restraining, or coercing its employees in the exercise of the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities, for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection.

Respondent cease and desist from urging, persuading or warning its employees from joining or assisting any labor organization, and from discouraging membership in any labor organization by discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment.

In order to effectuate the policies of the Act, respondent take the following affirmative action:

Offer to Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman immediate and full reinstatement to their former positions without prejudice to their seniority or other rights and privileges previously enjoyed.

Make whole said Jacob Schneider and Mabel Chapman for any losses of pay they have suffered by reason of their discharge and respondent's refusal to employ, by payment of a sum of money equal to that which each would normally have earned as wages, less earnings from other employment, during the period from the date of the discharge to the date of such offer of reinstatement.

Post a notice in a conspicuous place readily accessible to all employees stating that respondent offers no objection to any employee joining or assisting any labor organization and that respondent will not discriminate against any employee because of membership in or assistance to any labor organization, such notice to be kept posted for a period of 30 (30) days.

File with the regional director for the Second Region, on or before November 26, 1936, a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the foregoing requirements.

It is further recommended that respondent take the following affirmative action on or before November 26, 1936:

Barge Captains in "Race Against Ice" For Winter Haven

This week will be a busy one on the Barge Canal with the annual "race against the ice" in full swing. Every barge captain is hurrying to get his boat back to its home port before the ice closes the canal for the winter. Those entering the canal waters late in the season frequently are caught in an early cold snap which freezes over the calm waters of the canal and frequently some cargoes are frozen in for the winter. It is this which every captain desires to avoid and the annual rush to push boats through the 300 miles of canal is a thrilling one to many a barge captain and crew.

No clearance will be issued on Champlain Canal after midnight, November 30, while the Oswego Canal will remain open until December 3 to permit motorships coming down from ports on the Great Lakes to make their way through to New York city. Traffic to and from Seneca Lake will close November 30 and to and from Cayuga Lake on December 3 unless closed sooner by ice.

Clearance on the Erie Canal from either Buffalo or Watertown for wooden fleets will not be issued after midnight Wednesday of this week and clearance for metal boats and self-propelled units will not be issued after midnight November 30.

Although the state makes every effort to hurry boats out of the canals each fall there are some which are caught in the ice and have to remain trapped for the winter.

Steel boats and tugs usually fight their way through but wooden boats, unless they are steel sheathed, cannot battle heavy ice. Eastbound, the goal of all canal captains is to reach the warmer waters of the Hudson where even after the 300 miles of canal is frozen over the 150 miles of tidal water is free from ice for some time yet and the run from Watertown to New York is comparatively easy. About 200 families live all winter on their barges which tie up in New York for the months the large Canal is closed. Others return to their homes which they left last spring on the opening of navigation.

Two per cent in 1937

The New York tax for 1937 was 1 per cent, 2 per cent for 1937 and 3 per cent thereafter. The fund is now in excess of $20,000,000, paid by more than 75,000 establishments for 2,500,000 workers.

Benefits, not to be paid until 1937, are based by the legislation on 50 per cent of the full-time weekly wage, with a minimum of $5 a week, and a maximum of $15 to qualified unemployed workers.

Benefits could continue only for a maximum of 16 weeks a year. The

The planks. A sound program of soil conservation, controlled by farmers. Crop insurance under federal supervision, providing for voluntary participation by farmers, to protect them against drought, flood or other disaster.

12 Persons Die in Auto Accidents

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve persons died in upstate New York automobile accidents over the week-end and two persons, one a three-year-old child, were drowned.

Michael Donovan, 26, of Irma, Wis., fell from the rail of a steamer in Buffalo harbor and three-year-old Charles Walsh drowned when he broke through thin ice on Wappingers Creek near Poughkeepsie. The child's body was recovered.

Five of those killed by automobiles were pedestrians.

Rottweiler Dog Product of the Ancient Romans

The ancestor of the Rottweiler dog was developed in ancient Rome. When Caesar's legions crossed the Alps to conquer southern Europe, refrigeration was unknown. So they carried their meat supply "on the hoof." To guard and drive their herds, the Romans "went to the dogs," says a writer in the Washington Post.

Taken to what is now the town of Rottweil, Germany, one group of these dogs remained there after retreat of the legions, and became most popular there. Hence the name.

In Rottweil, and later, in other European towns, the Rottweiler continued as a guardian of cattle. In the Middle Ages, when highway robbery was so common, they assumed a new task.

Merchants, forced to transport large sums of money, used the dogs for this, tying purses around their necks. Few highwaymen dared molest them. They would die before breaking their guards.

Bruin, "One Shot's" Game, Runs Toward Car, Then Expires

Clifford S. "One Shot" Van Valkenburgh, Jr., his father, Clifford S. Van Valkenburgh, superintendent at the Ulster County Clerk's office, and Reginald Davis, town clerk of the town of Olive, started out Sunday to do some white rabbit hunting.

While in the woods on Mombaccus mountain back of Samsonville young Cliff was startled by a noise in a bunch of laurel about 10 feet from where he stood. The noise was too much for a white rabbit and, as he turned, he saw a huge bear rear up on his hind legs.

Cliff, who had loaded a ball load in one barrel in case of emergency, fired as the bear stood up. The charge took the bear in the jugular vein and there was no need for a second shot.

A remarkable thing was that the bear took to his legs and started to run away from the hunter and directly toward the car. Before the bear had finally dropped he had run to within a quarter of a mile of the car so the job of carrying out the 225-pound bruin was considerably lessened. Some of Cliff's friends advised him today to leave the car door open in the future and perhaps the next bear might be persuaded to climb in the car without assistance.

Sure, the new car models are "the most beautiful things in the world." So were the old ones when you bought 'em.

Complains of Twins

Canton, N. Y., Nov. 23 (UP)—Earl Moulton marvelled today at the vagaries of nature, which have resulted in the birth of three sets of twin calves on his farm within six days. Four other sets of twin calves have been born on his farm during the last two years. Moulton said he was not pleased with the increase in the birth-rate of his herd. "Twin calves are not good for a cow," he explained. "I would like to farm 30 years and never have a set of twins."

with a great wonder and admiration.

THE WAY OF PROSPERITY.

Wage-raises are a fine thing, but obviously their benefits are canceled if prices rise to the same extent. There is always a tendency in this direction. Indeed, prices sometimes rise more than wages, and the disastrous effects of such a movement were seen during the last business boom. Elaborate studies by able groups of economists seem to show that the chief cause of the economic breakdown was the growing inability of consumers—who are mostly wage-earners—to buy the goods produced. Blessed, and probably wise, is the manufacturer who raises wages; and thrice blessed is the one who also lowers prices. The latter procedure, according to the experts of the Brookings Institution, is even more important than the former, in creating buying power to absorb industrial production. The automobile industry, now so largely in the public eye, is perhaps the best American example of this principle. It has steadily lowered prices, while improving its product and paying good wages. Perhaps this fact, more than any other, is the reason why three times in succession this industry has led the way to general business recovery.

PAIN IN STOMACH

As ulcer of the stomach is not uncommon in young people, and as those who are nervous are more likely to develop stomach ulcer, it is not to be wondered at that so many, when a pain occurs in the abdomen, think they have ulcer of the stomach or ulcer of the first part of the small intestine—the duodenum—into which the stomach empties. Thus the ulcer of the duodenum may be only an inch or two from the place in the stomach where ulcers usually occur.

Now before believing that every pain in the abdomen is caused by a ulcer of the stomach (gastric ulcer), or of the first part of the small intestine (duodenal ulcer) there are two points that, if remembered, will relieve all worry about the pain in the abdomen being an ulcer.

First, there is the location of the pain. If the pain is down in the region of the navel or umbilicus it is likely due to a spasm in the large intestine, because the pain from gastric or duodenal ulcer is situated high up in the abdomen just below lower end of the breast bone and to the right.

The reason for the mistake made by patients in thinking the pain is due to ulcer of the stomach or duodenum is because they think the stomach is almost the whole abdomen. This is the reason that the physician always asks the patient to put his hand on the part of the "stomach" where the pain occurs.

The other point is the time the pain occurs in relation to the eating of food. Many are of the opinion that if the pain occurs soon after eating food, that this food rubs against the raw surfaces of the ulcer and causes pain; in fact they think this is the reason that only "soft" foods are given to ulcer patients.

As a matter of fact the pain due to ulcer of the stomach or duodenal ulcer occurs usually two or more hours after eating and is thought by some to be due to the fact that the digestive juice of the stomach reaches a certain degree of strength by the end of two hours, or that the lining of the stomach and intestine at this particular point is exposed to so much activity and pressure that pain results.

The thought then is that the pain in stomach ulcer and in intestinal ulcer is "high up" in the abdomen and occurs two to three hours after eating.

Wings For Sally

By BAILEY WOLF

SYNOPSIS. Sally Warren, attractive young society editor of the Warrenton Courier, becomes secretly engaged to Terry, Maynard, boyish blond aviator who has been promised a South American job. She won't marry at once, feeling her family needs her financial help. Tip, Sally's pretty headstrong younger sister, is thrown with Terry who teaches her to fly. Philip Page buys the Courier as a strike starts in the Morris mill. He backs the workmen, seeking better living conditions. Sally surprises Tip and Terry on the porch and Tip runs away.

Chapter 13
A Trip To Milltown

SALLY went in search of Tip and found her lying across her bed staring soberly out of the window. "What's the matter?" asked Sally. "Why did you run away a while ago?"

"Stomach," said Tip, without looking at her. "Ate too much candy." Sally was immensely relieved. Tip was always eating too many sweets and having to be dosed for it, like a child.

"We're going on a picnic Sunday," Sally told her. "Terry's idea—and you're to invite anyone you choose." Tip raised up from the bed. "Did he ask me?"

"Of course, goose. We're going to Clinton's Mill for a swim, and take supper with us. Who will you ask?" Tip wrinkled her brow in a frown. "Philip Page," she decided.

"You can't ask him," Sally protested. "He's not in your crowd. He's older, and you scarcely know him." "I know him well enough," said Tip coolly. "You needn't think I'm a child. I know what I'm doing—and if I can't ask Philip Page I won't go."

"Ask him if you like," Sally said slowly. "How The Other Half Lives" SATURDAY at the office was always a busy day, but on this particular day there was added excitement. Lola Hopkins first brought the news to the big office.

"What do you know?" Horton, the buildings inspector, asked her. "With the city," she announced. "He expected that," said Sally. "I heard him say so."

"Mayor says the town's got to curtail expenses," Lola went on. "They're doing away with the job of buildings inspector." She turned to Sally and said: "We've got a call from McDonald, who's heading the workmen's delegation. Boss wants you to go with me to Milltown and take it down in shorthand."

Sally went with Lola gladly. Lola seemed always to be in the thick of any excitement, and though she treated Sally with some condescension, Sally did not mind. "But you never been to Milltown," said Lola, as they rattled down Main street. "It's time you folks on Rosemary street found out how the other half of Warrenton lives."

The hum of a sewing machine came from the front room as they climbed the steps of the cottage. When they knocked the noise ceased and May McDonald came to the door. "Miss Hopkins! I'm glad to see you. You all step right in here. It's a mess, but then it always is." May led the way to the room that served her as bedroom, parlor and fitting room. Besides the sewing machine, there were two rockers and a bed, covered with a pink spread May had crocheted herself.

"You've got plenty of work, as usual," said Lola. "Yes, I reckon I ought not to complain, but seems like I'm going from morning till night—me and this old machine." May put her hand on the machine almost affectionately. She was a sweet-faced woman with blue eyes and fair hair. But to Sally her face seemed pale and strained. "What have you done with the kids?" asked Lola. She put a paper bag on the table casually. "Something for em—I promised it last time."

"You don't never forget, do you?" said May gratefully. "They'll be mighty pleased. I sent the lot of them over to the neighbors to play. This here dress has got so many ruffles, an' its so pure white. I scared one of em will get a spot on it. May showed them the cascade of white ruffles she was working on."

"We Can Starve" MR. McDONALD'S home? asked Lola casually. A frightened look came into May's eyes. "Yes," she said nervously. "It's in the kitchen with some others. They're talking things over. You want I should call him?"

"He's expecting me," said Lola. May opened a door and McDonald came in. He shook hands with Lola and Sally. He was a big man with sandy hair, a gentle voice and a firm mouth.

"There's no good news for you, Miss Hopkins," he said. "We seen them at the mill this morning. They offered to show us the books, how they ain't making enough money to fix up these here poor, pitiful little houses. We can go back to work and starve or we can stay out and starve. That's the answer."

"How many do you figure have gone back in the mill?" questioned Lola. Sally's fingers flew, writing in shorthand everything McDonald said. "There's 500 of us in all—200 that ain't gone back to work," said McDonald.

"Give me a statement for the paper," said Lola. "From yourself." McDonald's mouth shut tight. He clenched his hands. May looked at him anxiously.

ROYALTY OF SPAIN
DOGGED BY TRAGEDYKing Alfonso and Family
Have Had Unhappy Life.

New York—The family of exiled King Alfonso of Spain has known much tragedy, and is today scattered by exile and sickness. The former queen, Victoria Eugenia, recently visited the United States with her daughter, Princess Beatriz, on an errand of mercy. Her eldest son, Alfonso, who came here to be an automobile salesman, is suffering from the hereditary curse of the Bourbon-Hapsburg family, hemophilia, an ailment where the victim's blood refuses to clot and results in constant bleeding from the slightest wound. The lancing of a boil on his thigh started the bleeding.

Unhappiness has dogged Victoria and her family since she left England thirty years ago to marry Alfonso. The beautiful nineteen year old princess wedded the king in a love match. The ceremony was reported to have cost $10,000,000. But the blood that splashed on Victoria's wedding gown as they left the church was a fatal omen of the tragedy that has been her constant companion since. A bomb was thrown at the young couple. They were unhurt, but death silenced 24 of the wildly cheering crowd.

In Victoria Eugenia's 30 years of married life she has several times narrowly escaped assassination with her husband. In 1920, bandits opened fire on her train. She and her daughters spent much of their time after that in England where they were safer.

Alfonso Wants Annulment. Money difficulties and disagreements over royalist plans in Spain since their exile several years ago are said to have separated the royal couple. Alfonso desires an annulment of their marriage by the pope. Victoria Eugenia gave Alfonso six children. Three of the four boys were afflicted with hemophilia, which makes their lives too hazardous for them to assume royal responsibilities.

Her eldest son, Alfonso, twenty-nine years old, was first in line for the throne of Spain. Civil strife and his precarious health caused him to relinquish his claim to the throne in 1933 and become the count of Cavandonga. Leading a bizarre and near tragic life, he has become notorious as a rich playboy. In 1934 he married a lovely Cuban girl, Edelmira Sampedro.

When his mother finally became reconciled to his marriage with a commoner, capricious Alfonso fell in love with another Cuban girl, Maria Rocafort. Edelmira is seeking a divorce from him.

Second Son Deaf Mute. Next in line of succession to the nonexistent throne of Spain was Prince Jaime, a year younger than Alfonso. He, a deaf mute, also renounced his right to the throne in 1933. In March, 1935, he married Emmanuela de Dampierre. They live in southern Europe.

Prince Juan, now twenty-three years old, is the only son not afflicted with hemophilia. He is the heir presumptive to the throne, and unlike his older brothers, takes a great interest in his chances of becoming ruler of Spain. He has been reported to have crossed the Spanish frontier from France and held long conferences with the Fascist-Monarchist high command at Burgos. If the Fascists win, some of their leaders say, they will restore Alfonso to his throne, after a military dictatorship, and Juan, therefore, may follow him as the king.

Prince Juan married the Italian Princess Marie Mercedes in 1935. They retain their monarchial titles of prince and princess of Asturias which is a title of the same meaning in Spain as the title of prince of Wales in England.

Prince Gonzales, the youngest son of ex-King Alfonso and Victoria, died of hemophilia after he bruised himself in an automobile accident in 1934. He was nineteen years old.

A Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—The grip held by the South for four years on important house and senate committee chairmanships seems likely to continue undiminished in the next congress.

To begin with, Vice President Garner of Texas presides over the senate and Rep. Bankhead of Alabama, speaker last session, seems likely to repeat the feat.

The habit of the South to go Democratic election after election has given tremendous seniority to the lawmakers it sends to Washington. Seniority, within the majority party, of course, largely governs in selection of committee chairmen. At present, southerners hold 11 of the 20-odd important chairmanships in the senate and 17 of a slightly larger number in the house.

Each new congress selects its own committees and chairmen, but the old heads retain their places.

How They Stack Up
SOUTHERNERS in several instances head like committees in both senate and house, thus:

Senate
 Agriculture—Smith, S. C.
 Appropriations—Barnett, Miss.
 Finance—Cotton, Miss.

 War—Cotton, Miss.

House

 War—Cotton, Miss.

Other southern house chairmanships include: banking, Steagall of Alabama; civil service, Ramey of Georgia; foreign affairs, McNamara of Tennessee; interstate commerce, Rayburn of Texas; judiciary, Sumners of Virginia; naval affairs, Vinson of Georgia; pensions, Clegg of South Carolina; public lands, Derouen of Louisiana; rivers and harbors, Mansfield of Texas; territories, Green of Florida; world war veterans, Rankin of Mississippi.

Rep. McSwain of South Carolina, chairman of the house military affairs committee, died, but four southerners are next in line. However, upon the death of the two Florida senators, a northern, Senator Wagner of New York, seemed likely to succeed Senator Fletcher as head of the banking committee, and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts stepped immediately into the naval affairs chairmanship vacated by Senator Trammell. Senator Black of Alabama succeeded Walsh as labor chairman.

TALKS TO PARENTS

Lip Reading
 By BROOKE PETERS CURCH
 For many years the deaf and dumb have been cut off from communication with most of their fellow men. Their only means of communion has been the sign language, and since most of the world neither uses nor understands it, the deaf mute was necessarily confined to speaking only with his fellow sufferers.

Today, however, lip reading has proved a release for persons both deaf and dumb, and for merely deaf individuals. There is no longer any excuse for segregating the unfortunate few who are thus handicapped. The deaf child can go to an ordinary school, and with some extra attention, get along quite as well as the other children. The deaf and dumb child can often, through special training, learn not only to read lips but also to talk intelligibly.

But lip reading is not learned in a day, nor is it easy to pick up late in life. As soon as a child is found to be deaf, or even partially deaf, every effort should be made to have him taught lip reading. There are special classes for the deaf, though not as many as one might wish. Childhood is the time to learn this. To permit a deaf child to grow up without such training is short-sighted and cruel. He may be proficient in the sign language, and his family and friends may be equally proficient, but he still is limited to a small group of contacts and can never go out in the world on anything like an equal footing with his fellow men.

Shut into the physical shell of his imperfectly sensitized body there is the same eager spirit that animates his perfectly equipped fellows. The deaf and dumb child has the same ambitions, the same desires, the same talents and faculties as those about him. All he lacks is some of the mechanical means of expression. He must be given the best substitute that has been found for hearing, and given it before it is too late for him to use it with ease.

Publication Group Formed at Normal

New Paltz, Nov. 23.—At the meeting of the Sigma Omicron held last week a publication council was formed together representatives of each of the three publications.

The council is made up of two representatives from each of the publications, the Paltzonian, the Paltzonette and the Nepano, one of the representatives being the editor-in-chief and either the assistant editor or managing editor of each of the publications and the president of Alpha Sigma Omicron. The members of the council at present are: Ann Callahan, president of Alpha Sigma Omicron; Dorothea Babcock, Paltzonian; Gladys Place and Terrance Kelly, Paltzonette; Florence Brown and dwor dDoolan, Nepano.

In addition to plans for the annual Honor Society dance, which is to be held during the third quarter, the society discussed plans for sponsoring a poetry contest for members of all three classes, the best poems being submitted to be published in the annual, the Paltzonian. It was recently erroneously reported that Joseph McCaffrey was initiated into Alpha Sigma Omicron. The person initiated was Terrance Kelly instead, with five other successful candidates.

Shakespeare Was Versed

in Music, Plays Reveal
Lovers of music usually are amazed by the number of references to music and the thorough knowledge of music displayed in Shakespeare's plays, observes a writer in the Indianapolis News. "Twelfth Night" is considered as opening with one of the finest eulogies on music. "The Taming of the Shrew" opens with a music-teaching scene. Musical instruments he mentions include viols, violones (double basses), trumpets, fifes, recorders (flutes with mouthpieces), bagpipes, cornets, serpens, virginals, lutes, organs and oboes. "Hamlet" contains a description of how to play the recorder. Closely aligned to the musical instruments are the dances referred to. He mentions such early classic dances as the bergomask, theromanesca or galliard, the pavane, courante and gigue, as well as the English country dances known as the morris dance, hornpipe, brawl and hay.

"The Carman's Whistle," an old English ballad, is referred to in "King Henry VIII." "Oh, Willow, Willow," another ballad, is introduced in "Othello," and "Green-sleeves," a famous ballad is twice mentioned in "Falstaff." It was a Lover and His Lass, lyric written by Shakespeare in "As You Like It," was set to music by eighteen composers an ear; one of whom was Thomas Morley.

Shakespeare's lyrics, "Who Is Sylvia?" and "Hark! Hark! The Lark!" inspired two of Schubert's finest songs.

Eighteen settings have been made of the former.

"The Tempest" has been the inspiration for fourteen settings as an opera, the "Merry Wives of Windsor" has had eight settings.

"Measure for measure" was used as a basis for an opera by Richard Wagner in his youth. Incidental music to "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Felix Mendelssohn contains the latter's famous "Wedding March."

Other plays by Shakespeare which have been the inspiration for either operatic or symphonic settings include "Comedy of Errors," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Winter's Tale," "King Richard III," "King Henry IV," "King Henry VIII," "Macbeth," "Othello," "Hamlet," "Romeo and Juliet," and "King Lear."

Annual Meeting Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine

At the annual meeting and tea of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital to be held Wednesday afternoon, December 2, at 2:30 o'clock in the living room of the Nurses' Home, an interesting speaker will present "Hospitalization, or 'The Low Cost Hospital Plan,' which is arousing great interest in the mid-Hudson area.

The plan points out that the person whose illness requires care is faced with the double problem of paying both a hospital bill and a doctor's bill. Under the plan now formulated he is relieved of his hospital bill, and he selects his own doctor as he usually does. This "topic of the day" will be gone into in all its phases, and each detail will be fully explained at the meeting, when a representative of the hospital service, which is now being successfully operated in New York city, will describe the "group arrangement" and everything pertaining to the plan which is being put in operation in this area December 1. ## Thanksgiving Dinner

...and then the peaceful feeling that comes from good digestion and smoking Camels!

OFF TO A GOOD START— with hot, spiced tomato soup—delicious in itself and an exciting prelude to the delights to come!

THE MAIN EVENT— the time-honored turkey of our forefathers—done to a crisp and golden brown—flanked by a mountain of ruby cranberry jelly. And you enjoy it even more when you smoke Camels. For Camels speed up the flow of digestive fluids. Increase alkalinity. Help digestion run smoothly.

DOUBLE PAUSE— First for the crisp refreshment of Waldorf Salad—then for the sheer pleasure of Camel's costlier tobacco. This double pause clears the palate—sets the stage for dessert.

WHAT WILL YOU HAVE? Reading in a circle, there's a piping-hot Plum Pudding ... luscious Pumpkin Pie ... Mince Pie ... and layer cake with inch-deep icing. Thanksgiving dinner just wouldn't be complete without one of the traditional desserts shown here to add their characteristic touch of holiday cheer.

SO TO A HAPPY ENDING— over coffee and after-dinner Camels. Enjoy Camels—every mealtime—between courses and after eating—and you can feel on top of the world.

FOOD BETTER— Miss Dorothy Malone says: "I'm interested in good digestion. Camels build up a sense of digestive well-being."

"THE BEST MEAL I ever ate would be a disappointment if I couldn't enjoy Camels," says William H. Ferguson, salesman.

Good food and good tobacco go together naturally!
CAMELS set you right! They help so ease tension. And to increase the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—so important to your digestive well-being. You enjoy food more and have a feeling of greater ease after eating when you smoke Camels between courses and after meals.
Enjoy Camels all you wish—all through the day. Camels don't get on the nerves. And when you're tired, get a "lift" with a Camel.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos ... Turkish and Domestic ... than any other popular brand.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Nov. 23.—The local 1936 turkey crop is a bumper one and prices are reasonable.

Among growers of commercial rating are Maple Dell Farm with upward of 200 plump birds, Francis Every and Willis Eckert having in the neighborhood of 100 each, Madison J. Every 75, and Nicholas Winkler about 40.

The following group was present Wednesday at the Ladies' Aid church quilting: Mrs. Nettie Jones, president, Mrs. Sylvester Jones, Mrs. Rachel Kerr and daughter, Miss Jennie Kerr, Mrs. John Brethaupt, Mrs. Loren Bell, Mrs. Rachel Wean, Mrs. James Burgher, Mrs. Edward Avery, Mrs. Charles Richter, Mrs. Fannie Boice, Mrs. Chase Davis, Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. Herbert Hyde and son, Warren, and two Kingston visitors, Mrs. E. E. Henry and Mrs. Emma Petter. A hot table luncheon was served. Quilting was the order of the work program one quilt being completed and another started on the frames. Next week's meeting will be held on Friday instead of Wednesday, due to Thanksgiving Day.

Promiscuous social events scheduled for Thanksgiving week include the following: Monday night at the Olive Bridge I. O. O. F. hall the M. E. Ladies' Aid will present a feature comedy, depicting country school life of "Ye Horse and Buggy Days of Long Ago." Wednesday evening the Odd Fellows' annual oyster supper will be held at the Olive Bridge Lodge hall, followed by a Thanksgiving night masquerade at Colange's hall.

At the request of Mrs. Ruth R. West, teacher of the West Shokan School, a get-together meeting of the high school pupils was held at the schoolhouse Thursday after the arrival of the Kingston bus. It was a preliminary step toward the getting under way of the school's annual Christmas exercises, in which for several years past the high school group have taken part.

Benjamin Burgher of Mt. Tremper is trucking his winter's supply of sawed firewood from the ancestral home acres at West Shokan Heights.

Mrs. Rachel Wean is making her home with Mrs. Fannie Boice of Main street, as companion for the winter.

Mrs. William Wagner spent Wednesday in Kingston on a shopping tour. She also visited Mr. Wagner, who is convalescing at the Ulster county health hospital.

Albert Nichols of Broadhead Heights is riding out jauntily of late in a new maroon Ford V-8 sedan, which has superseded his long familiar staidy model A.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Conno, after completing their annual season's employment at Lake Mohawk, have been sojourning at the Jordan homestead at Broadhead Heights before leaving for their winter positions in Palm Beach, Florida.

The public is cordially invited to attend a Thanksgiving turkey shoot to be held Saturday night at Colange's hall.

There was a large attendance of the members reported present at the Olive Rebekah lodge meeting held on Thursday evening.

Thermometers registered around 10 degrees above zero here Thursday morning. The ground was frozen hard during the night and only snow was lacking to complete the dramatic touch of an early winter.

Monitors now made further preparation for winter on West side by burning up a big pile of firewood poles.

Self-Conscious People

Self-conscious people are invariably very observant, possessed of keen perception and sensitiveness, and have analytical minds, asserts a writer in Pearson's Weekly. Though seemingly unable to assert authority by reason of their shrinking natures, many of them have been known to rise to high office along various walks of life because of their special abilities. It is possible for a self-confident man to make mistakes all his life and not realize them, but self-conscious people usually "go slow" and so can improve themselves very quickly.

Taming Mothers-in-Law

Part of the ritual through which every young Australian aboriginal must go when he is initiated to manhood is to have one of his front teeth smashed out with a stone. The tooth is kept until he marries. Then, with due ceremony, it is pounded into a powder which his mother-in-law must swallow. Thereafter, she is forbidden by tribal law to speak to her son-in-law. She must, in fact, avoid him utterly. If she happens to be upon a trail along which he is traveling, she must lie so that he will not see her.

One hundred and fifty million dollars represents the yearly fire damage in rural districts. Every precaution possible that may tend to reduce this tremendous destruction, which means not only sacrifice of property but sometimes loss of life, should be taken.

If the proportions of a room are bad they can frequently be helped by proper decorations. For instance, if the ceiling seems too high, the addition of horizontal lines will seem to bring it down. A chair rail or a picture moulding will help considerably.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Give Me Your Heart." Aimed at sophisticated audiences who have a taste for illicit love, this pathological study of a woman who loved not wisely but too well and who spent the rest of her life in mingled moments of regret and worry is screen drama of great emotional scope. Kay Francis, the star, is cast in the role of a wealthy woman who falls in love with an English peer and discovers she is to become a mother. The peer has an invalid wife so she leaves the child in the custody of his family and comes to America where she marries and lives with her memories. It is a story built on tragedy and it possesses a strange appeal both gripping and startling. Miss Francis is aided by such players as George Brent, Patrick Knowles, Roland Young, Henry Stephenson and Frieda Inescort. A Warner Brothers picture directed by Archie L. Mayo.

Kingston: "The Magnificent Brute." Victor McLaglen is a stormy brute of a man in the show at the Kingston, a steel worker who uses his fists instead of his brain to get the things he desires from life. It's a rowdy show, alive with red blooded action and is somewhat similar in plot and dialogue as the once famous Victor McLaglen-Edmund Lowe dramas. McLaglen is supported by Binnie Barnes, William Hall, George Dixon and Henry Armetta and the whole show is a rough and satisfying spectacle to witness. Selected short subjects complete the program.

Orpheum: "13 Hours By Air." Death rides an airliner in the thriller on the Orpheum screen, a story of murder in the modern manner with a cabin full of airplane passengers at the mercy of a demented mind. There is a sprinkling of romance too and Fred MacMurray and Joan Bennett make a fine team with Zazu Pitts and John Howard lending ample support. The photography is exceptional, the dialogue crisp and humorous and the whole show is attractively produced by the Paramount people. "Border Patrolman" is the associate feature with the athletic George O'Brien doing the patrolling in a big and exciting manner.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Kingston: "The Big Game" and "Bengal Tiger." Last year's All-American football selections join hands with the picture stars and jointly make one of those crazy grid-iron pictures that is a mixture of thrills, comedy and college spirit. Philip Huston, June Travis, Bruce Cabot, Andy Devine and Jimmie Gleason are among the featured players in the show and the football shots are unusually good with Gomer Jones, Bill Shakespeare, Jay Berwanger, Monk Moscrip, Bobby Wilson and Frank Alustiza performing with skill, dexterity and rhythm. The picture was adapted from a novel by Wallace Wade. "Bengal Tiger" is the other attraction, a jungle thriller of unusual quality.

Orpheum: "Sins of Man" and "Sitting on the Moon." Jean Hersholt steps into a role made famous by Emil Jannings in the best of the features at the downtown theatre, a grim drama of reality that points a moral and pulls no punches. Don Ameche and Allen Jenkins are good in supporting roles. "Sitting on the Moon" is the other full length attraction, a bright, tuneful romance with Roger Pryor and Grace Bradley featured.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Meanderings and meditations: A blind chewing gum peddler fishing a newspaper from a Fifth street ash can. To sit on as she offers her shabby wares to passers-by. A full-blooded Indian—he looks it, anyway—who has been meditating with firewater. Wobbling along Forty-eighth street singing, "My Buddy." Can't guess his tribe because he's dressed even as you and I. Fifth street stand sign, "Change your luck." Those bunnies evidently didn't have the luck their paws are supposed to bring. Wonder if kids still gather "lucky stones" on Lake Erie beaches? They were white and bore a crude "L." Said to have come from the heads of a fish known as sheephead. Broadway, supposedly the wisest street in the world. But motorists who drive along it get gray-headed because there are so many jaywalkers.

A hat whisked from a pedestrian's head by a vagrant breeze at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street. . . and crushed by a dozen wheels before he can make a move. So he merely stands looking, bewildered. Couples still keep dates before the smug library lions. Bide Dudley, radio dramatic critic. . . So far as I know, he's the only first-nighter on the air. A shriek brakes as the lights change in Times square. Tallulah Bankhead, whose favorite dish is Southern fried chicken and hot biscuits with gravy. But she has to deny herself to keep her figure. A ringer for Irvin Cobb standing in front of that cut-rate ticket agency. Louella Gear, who appeared in a Long Island lawsuit. . . and who found the witness stand harder than starting in "On Your Toes."

Pitchman selling pencil sharpeners bearing Shirley Temple's picture. . . Something I just found out: That it cost $6,300,000 to remove last winter's snow. . . and some of it remained in the streets for weeks. Dr. Raymond L. Dittmar who recently returned from Trinidad. . . with one of those 13-inch tadpoles that turn into two-inch frogs. Seventh avenue traffic all snarled up. Too much of it for the corner cops to keep moving in regular order. . . and too many drivers who think only of themselves. A restaurant window full of pumpkins. Wish mother could teach some New York chefs how to make pumpkin pies. Hers have the real flavor. Something I learned from the World-Telegram-Freight ships of an American line each carry $2,000 worth of hand towels. Sailors kick if there aren't enough.

A stuttering panhandler on Eighth avenue. . . Only got as far as "G-s-s-y, mister," before I got away. . . What a handicap! Frank Munn who had never been in a night club. . . Evidently the "lavender and old lace" spirit has entered his blood stream. Nelson Eddy won't permit studio audiences. . . Because he likes to open his shirt "and just sing." Stillman's gymnasium where "sharpshooters" hang out. . . In the hope that they can spot a new star and sign him on at whatever percentage the traffic will bear. Billy Jones and Ernie Hare who, a few days ago, celebrated their 21st anniversary on the air.

Curious congregating about a fallen horse on Ninth avenue. . . A truck chauffeur giving directions as to how to get it back on its feet. . . Kids having a battle with spotted tomatoes. . . Stained shirts won't cause friendly home receptions. . . Taxi drivers weaving in and out of el pillars. . . Sort of a sheet of chutes effect for passengers. . . The grim bars of the West side jail.

Risks attend the life of a New York taxi driver. John Cuccia can testify to that. He picked up a fare at Seventh avenue and Thirty-eighth street. When 50 cents had been run up on the meter and the fare hadn't decided on a destination, Cuccia got out to argue the matter. So did his passenger. But instead of arguing, he grabbed Cuccia by the coat lapels and bit him through the upper lip. Before the taxi driver could recover sufficiently to give pursuit, the biter had vanished in the crowd. It took two stitches to close the wound.

Odes on Horseback

Budapest. — The first "mountain poet" in the world is Denzo Kottai, a young man of thirty, who recently made his debut on a beautiful brown horse and wore typical peasant dress. The rider sold his poems for 20 filler (4 cents) each. For one pengoe (20 cents) he writes a fresh poem on horseback in a few minutes. He declared he will ride all over Hungary, selling and writing poems on horseback.

On The Radio Day By Day

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

Time Is Eastern Standard

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Like turkey at the feast table, football is to be main course in the Thanksgiving menu of broadcasting. It will come, too, when most people are gathered at the dinner of thanks. One network, CBS, has selected the Pennsylvania-Cornell game for description. While WJZ-NBC will tell about Alabama vs. Vanderbilt. The Pennsylvania-Cornell contest also will be heard over a group of other stations. Among the additional gridiron meetings to be detailed by various individual stations include Temple vs. Bucknell, Duke vs. Carolina State and Richmond vs. William and Mary.

Otherwise, all of the regular programs will celebrate the occasion with special music and the like. Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt will open the Christmas season drive in a WJZ-NBC broadcast and a drama, "Courtship of Miles Standish," is planned as a WEAF-NBC matinee feature.

We run our house on the Huddle System!

MAYBE two can live as cheaply as one—on a desert island. But right after we married. Jim and I soon found out that running a house costs money—more, we first thought, than we could manage to scrape together.

Things are easier now. It took a while for us to learn, but we have the plan down pat. Jim calls it our "huddle system."

There really isn't any trick about it. We have a budget, of course—so much for food, clothes, amusements, luxuries, vacation. But having a budget is one thing. Making it work is another. There's where the system comes in.

Religiously, each day, we read the advertisements in this paper—together. Jim looks for the things he is most interested in—suits, shirts, golf equipment, books, smoking supplies. I look out for myself—shoes, dresses, a winter coat, cosmetics. Both of us keep our eyes open for household needs—furniture, draperies, bathroom accessories, linens. Then we go into a "huddle"—report to each other—check over our budget—spend what we can for what we feel we need—and save!

Careful buying, Jim says, is the secret of saving money. But careful reading of advertising, we both agree, comes first!

OFF TO STUDY HEAD HUNTERS

Head hunters off the northeast coast of Dutch New Guinea, in the Southern Pacific, are the objects of study of this group composing the Denison-Crockett expedition of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, shown aboard their schooner Chiva. Left to right, standing, are Mrs. Marion Lowndes, Mrs. Charles Crockett and Frederick E. Crockett. Kneeling, Doane Nickerson, cook, and Charles Smith, sailor. The party was photographed at Gloucester, Mass. (Associated Press Photo)

High Falls firemen used water from their booster tank and also pumped water from a pond. Neighbors also played an important part in helping to confine the fire to the one property.

Saved Adjacent Building
The High Falls Fire Department responded to recent fire which destroyed the house of Gottlieb Statsny on the Rosendale Road and, although the Statsny house was beyond saving, the firemen did save an adjacent building from being destroyed. The Willard Trask, author of "Joan of Arc: self portrait," prefers to read books published before the seventeenth century.

Don't Irritate Gas Bleeding
If you want to REALLY GET RID OF GAS and terrible bleeding you won't do it with harsh, irritating, alkaline and "gas tablets." Most gas is in the upper bowel and is due to poisonous matter from constipation. Adierika rid you of GAS and cleanses your bowels out of 100% bowels. Adierika acts where ordinary laxatives do not even reach. Does not grip—leaves no habit forming. Just one dose relieves GAS. Van's Drug Store.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE TO BE BEAUTIFUL

Guard your chin and throat line— for at these two points appear the first signs of age, such as crepe throat— sagging chin—rows of lines around the neck—or a throat like an old turkey gobbler's.

Simple Exercises Work Wonders. Beauty authorities and medical specialists now recommend simple exercises to combat signs of age at chin and throat line.

An excellent exercise is to tense neck muscles—tip head back slowly until chin is high, throat stretched. Holding this position, keeping muscles tense, turn head slowly to right shoulder, around to front, then to left, and front again. Relax, repeat five times. Don't lift the shoulder to meet the chin—make muscles do all the work.

Many wrinkles show old-looking because complexion care is ended at the chin line. If the skin of your throat and neck is dingy, yellow, stringy or flabby, try deep, thorough cleansing with cream, stroking with long, caressing movements from chest to jaw line—and washing with bland soap and warm water.

Charm and beauty can be retained or acquired more easily than many women realize. Our new 40-page booklet, Beauty for the Mature Woman, tells in words and pictures how to keep or regain the firm, round, secure fashion dictates—how to prolong the appearance of youth—how to keep the breast firm and lifted.

Send for our booklet, Beauty for the Mature Woman, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 100 West 18th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your Name, Address and the Name of Booklet.

Flakier pie crust digestible as bread with new TRIPLE-CREAMED shortening

HERE'S a perfect finish for a glorious Thanksgiving Dinner—Cross-Crust Mince Pie with a crust so tender and flaky, so beautifully browned, so delicate in flavor that your guests will forget all the good things they've already eaten and devour it to the last delicious crumb.

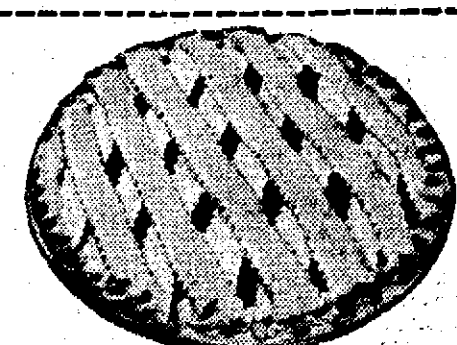

Thanksgiving Day or any day, you'll have doubly delicious pastry when you make it with Spry, the new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening that's triple-creamed. Spry is whiter, smoother as satin. Cuts into the flour so easily your dough requires just half the handling.

Cake-bakers marvel!

Spry gives lighter, more delicate cakes in half the mixing time. Perhaps you doubt this, think there's only one shortening to use for cakes. Countless women thought so, too, until they tried Spry. Now they're getting better cakes for less work and less money—with Spry!

Spry is marvelous for frying, too. Doesn't smoke. Gives crispier, tastier foods that are as digestible as if baked or boiled. Try Spry.

CROSS-CRUST MINCE PIE

Everyone raves about this tender, golden Spry pastry

2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour 5 tablespoons cold milk (about) Homemade or packaged mince meat

1 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup Spry

Sift flour and salt together. Add 1/2 of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as corn meal (takes only a jiffy with triple-creamed Spry). Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean.

Sprinkle milk. 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. (Water may be used instead of milk, if desired.) With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed.

Roll 1/2 of dough thin and line a 9-inch pie plate. Fill pie shell with mince meat (1 quart is ideal). Roll remaining dough to about 1/4-inch thickness, cut into strips 1/2-inch wide and lay 5 or 6 across mince meat, then lay another set of strips across diagonally. Trim strips even with rim and press edges down. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 to 40 minutes.

Wiltwyck Regent at D. A. R. Conference

On Wednesday, November 18, Mrs. William R. Anderson, regent of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R. of Kingston, and Mrs. Prescott J. Clapp represented the chapter at the New York State No. 2 district conference at Poughkeepsie.

The conference was preceded by a delightful luncheon at the Vassar College Alumnae House. Mrs. Helen Pouch of New York, national chairman for organizing junior group work, attended and later spoke at the conference. Besides the state regent, Mrs. William H. Clapp of Cohocton and Mrs. Arnold, vice regent, 11 chapter regents and chapter representatives from the district attended. The regent of the hostess chapter introduced Mrs. William H. Clapp, state regent, who spoke of the work involved in keeping in touch with 175 chapters throughout the state and informing them of the work done by the committees of both the state and national organizations in connection with approved schools, national events and junior work. Miss Page Schwarzwelder of Newburgh, a member of the national and state committee on credentials, announced that last year the committee had checked over 35,000 names of alternates who did not go to Washington. This year the number of alternates will be greatly reduced. There are 3,500 chapters in the National D. A. R. organization.

Mrs. Huling of New York city, a member of the state committee on national defense through patriotic education, spoke of the value of having the D. A. R. manual reach prospective citizens. She had on hand a number of leaflets and booklets of various patriotic subjects which could be obtained free of charge or for a very nominal fee from the national organization. These booklets can be used not only with those of foreign birth who do not understand the principles of American government but can also be given to native born Americans as a means of correcting their misconceptions of the nation in which they live.

A very pretty autumn home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, November 18, at 2:25 o'clock, when Margaret Natalie Fields, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fields, became the bride of Donald G. Beany, son of Mr. Margaret Beany and Mr. O. To the strains of the march from Lehar, played by Mrs. Goodrich Gatten, the bride party entered the living room, which was artistically decorated with roses, ferns and green potted plants. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Goodrich Gatten, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, under a large white bell, with streamers of lilacs of the valley gracefully hanging from it. The bride was charming in a white bridal suit princess gown wearing a tulle veil with satin and lace cap and white satin sandals to match. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and swanons. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Harry J. Marks, who was her matron of honor. She was groomed in a midnight blue chiffon velvet with tulle and sandals to match, carrying a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Orville Beany of Smithfield, O., was his brother's best man. A quiet reception was held at the Hotel Stuyvesant for the members of the immediate families. In the evening the bride and groom left on an extended trip to Ohio and West Virginia, amid showers of rice and confetti, as well as good wishes for a long and happy married life. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The Coterie

The Coterie met on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Terwilliger on Broadway. A very pleasant surprise awaited the club members in that Mrs. A. C. Gates, a former member wrote the first paper on "Socrates, the First Humanist", an able paper, and it was read by Miss Thompson. Mrs. Louis Deeres presented the second paper on "The Wonder Cities of Greece", which was fully enjoyed and appreciated by all. On December 5, the club will meet with Miss Mabel Hale.

Last Day to File "SS4" Cards Here

Postmaster William R. Kraft stated this morning that today was the last day that the "SS4" Social Security cards to be filed out by employers could be filed with the local postoffice. After today they will have to be filed out and mailed to the Social Security Board, 109 Market Place, Baltimore, Md.

The card "SS5" for employees to fill out will be delivered in Kingston, commencing Tuesday. It is expected that approximately 9,000 of these cards will be distributed to workers in Kingston.

Another interesting sidelight on our capitalistic civilization is Papa Dionne making $100 a day writing his autograph for tourists.

TWO FINED FOR INTOXICATION

WHEN CAR LEAVES THE ROAD

Answering a report to the sheriff's office Sunday night that a car was off the road near the Ulster County Gun Club range, on the Plank Road, Deputy Sheriffs Vredenburg, McCullough and Winne went to the scene and arrested Francis J. Scully, 50, of 132 North Front street, and William Best, 29, of 121 Green street.

The two men were arraigned before Justice John Watzka of East Kingston on charges of public intoxication. They were fined $5 each, or five days in jail and were brought to jail but later paid their fines and were released.

Four Dead in Slide At Juneau, Seven Hurt, 25 Trapped

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 23 (AP)—Four dead, seven injured and possibly 25 trapped were unconfirmed estimates today of a toll exacted by a huge landslide of mud and rock which fell with crushing force last night on Juneau's apartment house district.

Through disrupted communications came the reports of the dead and the estimate of Fire Chief V. W. Mulvihill that more than a score may have been killed or trapped by the 100-foot wide mass which tumbled down from a rain-swept mountain.

Muffled cries from the debris were heard as rescue workers toiled through the night. The slide demolished two apartment houses, a lodging house, a two-story concrete store and several homes.

It cut off power lines, plunging the city into darkness, and disrupted telephone and U. S. Signal Corps communications.

The injured included: Alfred Bates, his side pierced by a board; Gust Erickson, crushed and injured internally; August Maki, a fractured ankle; Mrs. H. Lee, nee, a fractured leg; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson and their two children, Gail and Allen, badly bruised and shocked.

The reported dead were unidentified.

Heavy Rains Responsible
The heavy rains of the last few days caused two slides. The first did slight damage. The second a few hours later was 100 feet wide and from 10 to 40 feet deep.

The rumble was heard by persons living at the foot of the mountain. Some rushed from their homes. Maki and Bates were hurt as they fled.

Erickson and Mrs. Lee were trapped in his house where rescue crews dug them out. The Peterson family was caught in the three-story brick frame apartment house and were among the first removed.

A terrified woman and two children, none badly hurt, were taken from mud up to their necks.

In the concrete structure which the slide carried across a street, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were believed to have been caught. Their daughter, Lillian Peterson, was rescued. Mrs. Fred Mattson, a resident of the same apartment house, was missing.

Before power was restored and lights turned on, fire department trucks and automobiles poured their headlights on the ruins while men hacked at the slide. A power shovel was moved up and bit into the mass.

Mulvihill said efforts were centered on rescuing persons whose voices could be heard. Four were believed to be in one place. In another, a woman, apparently was under a piano.

Several slides have occurred at Juneau this winter. One buried a woman up to her neck in mud and destroyed her home. A great slide covered the glacier highway yesterday and almost trapped a motorist whose car was partly buried.

With the Nobel Prize in his pocket, maybe Eugene O'Neill for once can crack a smile, even if mourning does become him as well as Electra.

Minasian's Touchdown Gives the Jackets 7-0 Win Over Hudson A. C.

Shute, the New Champ

Denny Shute Is Pro Golf Champ

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 23 (AP)—Densmore (Denny) Shute, who failed in five attempts to win the American amateur title, but has collected $30,000 in eight years among the professional golfers' championship crown. His money total included the tournament's $1,000 top prize.

He whipped Jimmy Thomson, golf's longest hitter from Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., 3 and 2 in the final yesterday here.

Playing quarterback, Minasian took the ball as it snapped from center, cut back and ran around right end, darting through the Hudson blockade, evading tacklers, and traveled down the field like a bullet until he ended across the goal line for Kingston's score.

Mac Tiano, former DUSO League star for Kingston High School, and now a Waspy luminary, went through tackle for the extra point, giving Kingston its 7-0 advantage.

Johnny Spada, another DUSO product from Coach G. Warren Kias' 1935 Maroon machine, saw action with the Servicenter gridlers yesterday, and showed up well at center after Charlie Raible left the fray on account of injury in the fourth quarter. Raible, who quit football earlier in the season, returned to the lineup Sunday to help out.

Raible and Spada took the place of Don Beany, who was away on his honeymoon. Other regulars out of yesterday's game were Jimmy Steigerwald and "Zip" Zacheo.

A special meeting of the Yellow Jackets will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Nick's.

Booking Manager Al Flanagan hopes to have the Brownies play at the Fair Grounds Thanksgiving Day, and is angling with the Newburgh Hellos for a match.

Twice each year, Vise, a quiet little city on the border of Belgium and Holland, decks itself in festive array and holds celebrations reminiscent of medieval times. Its Gild of the Arquebusers holds a fête, while the Gild of the Free Arquebusers make merry a week later, states a writer in the Boston Globe.

Even though the arquebus, a sixteenth century gun, which preceded the musket, went out of use about 1570, its carriers in this city, the arquebusers, have kept up their ancient gilds and today membership in them is still looked upon as a mark of distinction. Twice annually they turn back the calendar 400 years and stage these celebrations with all the color of the Middle Ages.

Other Belgian cities as well as Vise preserve gilds and contests that date from medieval times. Just as colorful as the Fêtes of the Arquebusers are the archery contests still held throughout the year in Bruges by the Archers' Company of San Sebastian. Once made up of men who formed the bodyguard of the Counts of Flanders, this company still prides itself that Charles II of England visited its tower in 1556 and wrote his name in its golden book. His brother, the Duke of Gloucester, even tried his hand at the bow there and left behind a silver arrow, still the show piece of the tower.

About 50 men take part in the tournaments, wearing white jackets and shooting from a standstill at the back of the tower. Their target, a clay pigeon on a pole above the building, is a hard one to hit, and on windy days it sometimes happens that no one breaks it.

Predicts Good Trapping Season.
Ithaca, Nov. 23.—Prices of raw furs are likely to be higher in 1936-37 than during the past trapping season, with muskrat, mink, raccoon, fox and weasel in greatest demand, according to Dr. W. J. Hamilton, Jr., of the zoology department, New York state college of agriculture. When prices for pelts are high, the income to trappers of the state probably exceeds $3,000,000 a year; even when fur prices are low, fur-bearers provide an annual million dollar crop, he says. The industry provides a partial income for more than 60,000 persons.

So much has been written about the merit and minerals of sphinch that we have come to regard it as having a place second to none as a health giving and worthwhile vegetable. There are others, however, which have similar food properties that can be used by way of variation to effect the same results. For example, beet top greens, turnip tops, broccoli leaves, watercress, kale, and chard are high in iron content and mineral salts.

1,200 Men to Work On State's Barge Canal Deepening

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Twelve hundred men—approximately the same number who required 14 years to dig Clinton's Ditch—expected to modernize it in half that time.

They are at work on a $27,000,000 state and federal project to deepen to 14 feet the 400-mile stretch of the state's Barge Canal system from Albany to Oswego. Two feet of earth will be cut from the bottom along the entire distance except inside the locks where the depth will remain at 12 feet.

The canal is an enlargement of the dream of Governor DeWitt Clinton, sponsor of the original 340-mile Erie Canal linking Lake Erie and the west to the Hudson river at Troy. Scoffers called it "Clinton's Ditch."

It was built entirely by hand.

The Barge Canal system, in addition to the Erie Canal, includes the Champlain Division, 63 miles between Troy and Whitehall; the Oswego Division, 24 miles, near Syracuse, where it connects the Erie Canal with Lake Ontario; and the Cayuga and Seneca Canal branches, west of Syracuse, 27 miles, connecting with Cayuga and Seneca lakes.

In discussing the present improvement Colonel Farrell said the banks along the canal had lost some of their soil from erosion and that the project would correct that condition.

"The job also calls for raising several bridges to a minimum clearance of 25 feet," he said. "The former clearance was only 15 feet."

The effect, when completed, Col. Farrell said, would be "increased business. Canal traffic will be greater, the state's products will be shipped cheaper and each boat will be able to carry bigger loads."

Freezing Weather Again Grips City

Following mild temperatures of Sunday the thermometer began dropping that night and freezing weather again gripped the city today. The lowest point recorded by the official city thermometer was 24 degrees above zero during the night. At 9 o'clock this morning a temperature of 28 degrees above was recorded. Sunday night there were snow flurries in the city. In the mountains quite a fall of snow was reported.

Boys to Organize Drum Corps Here

Plans will be made Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Sons of the American Legion at the Legion Building on West O'Reilly street, to organize a drum corps among the boys. There are now 63 boys who are active members of the recently organized Sons of the Legion. The boys will also elect officers and other important matters will be taken up. All of the boys who are members of the organization are urged to be present at 7:30 o'clock that evening.

Hungarian Dances

Hungarian popular dances faithfully reflect the typical features of the national character. The way in which quick and solemn rhythms change in the course of a dance shows how seriousness is mingled with gaiety in the Hungarian soul. The erect bearing, graceful floating gestures and quick, staccato jumps suggest a light, equestrian race of the plains such as the Hungarians have always been. In the Magyar dance the man has the leading role, showing that it was at first a distinctly heroic dance. It was only much later that women were allowed to join in, and even then they had to obey their partners' commands fully, says the Hungarian Quarterly.

Furlin Fights in Po'keepsie Tonight

Boxing fans who cheered for Joe Furlin in the main bout at the local fights Friday night, will have an opportunity of watching him tonight if they attend the card of bouts at Marlon Arena in Poughkeepsie.

Matchmaker Benny Embinder has Furlin paired with Ralph Pignone, Poughkeepsie scrapper, for the star attraction in the Bridge City tonight, and according to talk among fans of Jellana in the lower Hudson community the Marlon building won't be able to hold the boxing crowd.

Pignone earned the shot at Furlin by trimming Al Steppney, a Diamond Glove winner, who boxes at the Hippodrome in New York in the finals of the All-American show Friday, November 27.

Ray Israel, Cold Spring professional heavyweight, will be a guest at the Poughkeepsie bouts tonight.

MANQUERANE WEDNESDAY AT THE POLASH SCHOOL HALL

The annual masquerade at the Polish School Hall, Delaware avenue, will be held under the auspices of the Children of Mary, Thanksgiving eve, November 25, for the benefit of the school fund, a worthy cause. There will be dancing, and a general road time for all who attend, the committee promises. Costume prizes will be awarded. Refreshments will be on sale. The admission is nominal.

Return Lightning Explained

Return lightning is described as a quite small electrical discharge that takes place here and there from objects on the earth's surface directly with lightning flashes. This discharge is quite insignificant to the main flash, but is powerful enough to cause explosions, to start fires and even take life.—Rocky Mountain Herald.

Rose Bowl Teams and Army-Navy Game Are Big Grid Questions

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Drawing a deep breath for a plunge into the last big roller of the stormy football season that already has upset most of the nation's proud gridiron arkoses, the fans are scrambling around for the answers to two big questions this week.

Which teams will play in the Rose Bowl January 1 for the mythical national title? And who will win the Army-Navy game?

The annual service classic, to be played at Philadelphia Saturday, is the signal for the curtain to drop, although scattered games will be played throughout December.

Already the Big Ten and many of the major teams in the east and throughout the country have concluded operations for the year.

The south probably will settle one half of the Rose Bowl question while Washington, the current leaders, and Washington State will fight it out Thursday for the Pacific Coast Conference title and the western nomination.

With Marquette beaten 12-0 by Duquesne and Fordham held to a 7-7 tie in a non-league game, the two teams are the ranking candidates. Even before Northwestern took its 26-6

Three more games in the Church Basketball League will be played tonight at the Y. M. C. A. with the highlight being the Clinton Avenue-Port Ewen battle. The Redeemers and the Missions will meet in the first contest at 7:30, with the Redeemers favored to stretch their victorious march into four straight games. The last encounter will bring the Comforter Aces against the First Dutch.

The Port Eweners lost last week to the Redeemers and plan to get back on the winning road at the expense of the Clinton Avenue boys, who now are tied for first place with the Redeemers.

Even though they are now in third place in the standings, the Port Ewen Church has placed two of its players in first and third in the scoring list of the league. Jack Short, the dark-haired speedster of the lads from across the creek, is leading the scorers with 10 field baskets for a total of 20 points. Pete Schilling of the Redeemers comes second with 17 and "Bing" Van Etten, third with 16. The reason for the Redeemer's success thus far can be found in the fact that they have four men in the first dozen scorers who have amassed a total of 57 points; while the balance of their lineup includes several men who are quite capable of holding their own when it comes to scoring points.

Ohio Gridder Is Scoring Champion

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—A new football scoring champion appeared today, rising from the ranks of the "unknowns" to take the lead in the national point-getting race.

Norman Schoen, 170 pound half-back from Baldwin-Wallace College in Ohio, tallied 31 points in a 67-0 victory over the University of Louisville Saturday, bringing his season's total for eight games to 117 points.

That not only ousted Art Buck of Carroll (Wis.) from the national scoring lead, but it surpassed the mark made by Ray Zeh of Western Reserve in winning last year's honors. Buck had 102 points in 1935.

Schoen has made 19 touchdowns and three points after touchdowns, scoring a quintet of six-pointers and one of the 10 points Saturday.

Dick Welsgerber of Williamette (Ore.) added seven points to move into second place with 86 points.

Yale Squeezes Out Narrow Victory Over Harvard

Yale's great gridiron season reached its climax at New Haven Saturday when the inspired Elis under Captain Larry Kelley stopped Harvard, traditional foe of the Elis, by the score of 14 to 13. Yale made it a clean sweep over both Harvard and Princeton this season. The above photo shows the Yale line holding fast before the battering charge of Struck, Harvard fullback, completely hidden under the line. ## Davidson Has Not Much Hope for the Army Against Navy

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Coach Gar Davidson said today he was "disappointed" in the showing of his Army team and "not very hopeful about the outcome of the Navy game Saturday."

Despite Army's 51-7 victory over Hobart Saturday, Davidson refused to be impressed by published comments that his team had returned to form.

"We have been going down hill ever since the Harvard game," he said, "and I have not been able to bring them back."

Davidson blamed the wave of influenza which struck the team in mid-season for part of the slump, but said he saw no reason why the players should not be back in top form now.

"Pointing to lack of reserves and weak end plays as the team's outstanding drawbacks, he complained: 'We really have only 14 first string men on the squad.'"

Davidson said, however, that he would go along with his regular lineup in the Navy game unless someone is injured in practice this week.

He added that Monk Meyer, Army ace, will not start the Navy game but will go in soon after the opening kickoff.

Named Coach Again

Named head coach for another year, Davidson said the appointment came as a surprise.

"Appointment to any military post is for four years, and this year theoretically was my last at West Point."

Davidson is the first Army coach since C. D. Daley to hold the job more than the stipulated four years.

Daley coached the Cadets from 1913-1922.

Casey to Wrestle Gino in Albany

Albany, Nov. 23—Steve Casey, colorful Irish Free State heavyweight, and Gino Garibaldi, veteran St. Louis Italian, will tangle in the main event of the wrestling show here Tuesday night in the 10th Infantry armory.

Casey figures to be in for a hectic evening with Garibaldi, perhaps a disastrous one. Gino ranks among the greatest grapplers in the U. S.

George Clark of Scotland, who is also a brilliant invader, faces John Katani; Ed Meske meets Farmer McLeod and Lord Albert Mills takes on Pat McKay in other matches.

Golfers Turn to the Augusta Open

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 23 (AP)—America's outstanding professional golfers, through with their annual P. G. A. tournament at Pinehurst, turned attention today to the $25,000 purse at stake in the Augusta Open competition here this week-end.

Horton Smith, Chicago's twice winner of the springtime Augusta National, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., Dick Metz of Chicago, Sam Parks, Jr. of Pittsburgh, Clarence Clark, Jr. of New York and Al Watson of Detroit were among the more than 50 golfers checked in for the contest.

Phoenix Sacred in China

The phoenix, called a Chinese "feng hsiang," is one of the four sacred creatures of the country, the others being the dragon (perhaps the most important of them all), the unicorn, and the unicorn. The phoenix is regarded as the king of a class of birds, says Nature Magazine, the phoenix, ruler of all feathered life.

Newburgh Free Academy, traditional turkey day rival, is the Thanksgiving host to the Maroon and White in the football finale for the Klasmen at Academy Field, Thursday, November 26. Coach Bill Elder's golden horde engage Kingston in the windup of the 1936 DUSO season in the howl-like amphitheatre in the Hilly City at 2 next Thursday.

Steeped in heroic upsets, garrison finishes, torrid struggles and ultra-inspirational deeds, the turkey day classic is unpredictable as to the final outcome. Past records are swept aside and inspired play rules the afternoon's activities. The final determination hinges vitally on the outcome of the traditional clashes Thursday as Kingston may annex the crown if Port Jervis upsets the Middy machine at Glensville Field.

The gold-backs have undergone a rather erratic season, marked by a predominance of upsets. Little Highland Falls put a crimp in the Elderties victory march in the initial game of the budding season by pinning a startling 6-6 tie verdict on Newburgh. The Hilly Cityites reversed form and vanquished a favored Nyack unit by a 12-0 margin in an upset over the powerful Rockland county combine. Middletown was the next victim of the Elderties in the super-upset of the DUSO program when the twin-city boys throttled the Hughes machine by a 7-7 stalemate. Feet skill crossed the river to administer a decisive 12-0 defeat and Port Jervis fought the hordes to a scoreless standstill.

Peekskill went down to its eighth defeat at the hands of the hosts last Saturday in a 21-0 affair to give the burghers a 500 battling average over the season's course, as far as tie-games are concerned.

Kingston edged out the invading Newburgh array of the now-historical mud-derry at the Fair Grounds by virtue of Nyulassy's recovery to give the locals a 2-0 victory in last year's episode of the seasonal drama. Coach Elder was gifted with a flock of returning lettermen from the

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Prices fell

sharply in today's stock market as fresh European unrest turned speculative forces to the selling side. The list dipped at the opening and fast dealings. Support appeared later and the pace slowed. Near the final hour heavy offerings again jolted the leaders and declined of fractions to four or more points were distributed throughout the list.

In the afternoon retreat large blocks changed hands in virtually all departments and the ticker tape lagged two minutes behind dealings on the floor of the exchange.

In the morning a smattering of sugars, aircrafts, oils and specialties pushed higher, but even these gave ground before the close.

Prominent losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Western Union, North American, Sears Roebuck, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, du Pont, Goodyear, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific and Allegheny Preferreds.

Transfers were around 2,200,000 shares.

Signs Indicate Big Retail Trade for The Holiday Season

Signs of an extraordinary retail trade for the holiday season multiply, while here and there appear a few indications of moderating pace in the basic industries. Output of textiles, wearing apparel and other varieties of consumption goods proceeds at about top speed. The week's automobile production, according to trade authorities, went above that of the same week of 1935 and reached pre-depression proportions.

Steel ingot production was again practically unchanged. Trade authorities differed as to the effect of a prospective price advance in finished steels on current ordering, but it is probable that there has been some defensive covering of forward needs. Despite the dubious financial position of the steam carriers as a group, railroad buying has been comparatively heavy and more business from this source is definitely in prospect. It is significant that the largest locomotive order since 1931 was placed last week by a rail system in the hands of trustees for reorganization. Carriers must have new rails, cars and motive power, whether or not bondholders wait for their interest.

Engineering construction awards reported weekly by the Engineering News-Record were below the corresponding 1935 figure but the F. W. Dodge monthly figures on all construction show October gain over 1935 of 12 1/2 per cent, chiefly in private undertakings. Markets for the non-ferrous metals resumed their activity on a firm basis, after the previous week's hesitation.

Allowing for the fact that over-year comparisons are being made with the 1935 period of sharply rising industrial production, it is clear that industry is still pointing upward. One may without undue optimism expect that tendency to hold for a period of months, until the possibilities of the legislative program to evolve under a new Congress and the popular mandate of the recent election can be more or less accurately measured.

Current forecasts of what the new Congress will do or will be disposed to consider doing naturally lack authority. We know that a supplementary appropriation will be asked to carry works relief on to the end of June.

More significant will be the manner in which the same subject is handled in the budget message outlining the proposed handling of the nation's financial affairs in the coming fiscal year. Members of Congress already are predicting budget balances within that period. The administration probably will give no blinding pledge of the sort, but President Roosevelt has acknowledged the contributions which private industry has made and is making to the reduction of unemployment, reserving judgment as to the adequacy of its efforts.

Wanderer's Two Feet Frozen

James Waters, 52, a man who said he had no home, wandered into police headquarters Saturday evening seeking medical aid. He said that both his feet had been frozen and he had no money to pay for medical aid. The man on the desk got in touch with Superintendent Rufus Kelder of the Board of Public Welfare and informed him of the circumstances. Mr. Kelder directed that the man be taken to the Bonesteel Sanitarium, where he is now under the care of Dr. Downer.

WALKILL GIRL HAS SWALLOWED SAFETY PIN

"Patsy" Baumer, 3 1/2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baumer of Walkill, played about her home today without sign of pain and unconcerned about the constant vigil being kept over her. The child swallowed a closed safety pin a week ago. She had put the pin in her nostril and, when she sneezed, it went down her throat. X-rays taken in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, revealed the pin had traveled to her small intestine. Dr. James N. Bernhard is attending her.

Mr. Jones' acquaintance was not alone limited to railroad associates. He also enjoyed the friendship of countless numbers of other friends. ## Gram Fire in City

Sunday afternoon the fire department was called for a grass fire in the rear of 215 West Chestnut street, and another fire at the Athletic Field, where some railroad ties had caught fire. A fire in Gram's woods of Delaware avenue was allowed to burn at the request of the owner, who wanted to burn off the land.

Court Says Measure Is Constitutional

money is to be paid into the federal treasury and returned as requisitioned by the states.

Under the federal measure, a tax is assessed against employers but 90 per cent of the amount is to be returned in states which adopted unemployment insurance plans approved by the federal social security board.

Various Challenges

Constitutionality of the New York act was challenged by the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc., and by two Syracuse firms, E. C. Stearns and Co., and W. H. H. Chamberlain, Inc.

Their attorneys, which included Frederick H. Wood of New York, contended the act was unconstitutional because it took property from one class for the benefit of another class and thus deprived employers of property "without due process of law."

In the Chamberlain and Stearns cases, the federal district court held the act constitutional except for a sub-section authorizing benefit payments to an unemployed worker after a 10-week waiting period when the worker had lost employment through misconduct, strike or industrial controversy.

In the associated industries case, the entire act was held invalid by the district court on the ground that it took property without due process of law.

The state court of appeals found the act to be constitutional under both the federal and state constitutions.

Henry S. Fraser, Syracuse attorney, aided Wood in arguing for Stearns and Chamberlain. James McCormick Mitchell of Buffalo argued for Associated Industries.

"Very Pleased"

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—Commenting on the United States Supreme Court's decision on the New York unemployment insurance law, William Green, president of the American Federation of labor, said today:

"This decision is very pleasing. It encourages labor to believe that the National Social Security Act will be held constitutional. This decision is accepted as a great victory for labor."

Bray "Highly Pleased"

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Acting Governor M. William Bray said today he was "highly pleased" that New York state's unemployment insurance Act had been held constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Bray declined further comment. Governor Herbert H. Lehman is on vacation in Palm Springs, Calif.

"We are delighted," was the comment of John F. O'Hanlon, secretary of the New York state Federation of Labor.

"The Unemployment Insurance Act will go a long way toward lessening the hardships of the future," he added.

not Lehman, balked the highest court's ruling as "a most encouraging decision for those who are interested in social and labor legislation."

Democratic State Senator William T. Byrne of Albany, sponsor of the legislation in 1935, described the decision as "a wonderful thing."

"The principle involved in the law was never contested," Byrne said. "The result confirms the application of the principle and therefore is unquestionably highly just and will be satisfactory to its opponents as well as its proponents."

Arrived Too Late To Snare 'Possum

Sunday afternoon residents of Smith avenue, near the Great Hall Market, spotted a strange animal walking about the building, and called the police department. One of those who telephoned stated that the animal appeared to be a possum. An alarm was sent out over the radio and one of the radio cars in which Officer Guernsey Barker was riding was hastened to the scene. When the car drove up it was to find that it had arrived too late as the possum was the prize of Dewey Van Buren who had captured the animal. It was not learned whether Mr. Van Buren plans to entertain his friends at a possum dinner or not.

City Officials to Meet in Newburgh

Mayor C. J. Helselman and other city officials plan to attend the regional meeting of the State Mayors' Conference to be held in Newburgh on Tuesday. The sessions will be held commencing at 10:30 o'clock that morning. Local city and village problems will be presented and discussed informally; also municipal legislation. Any citizen who is interested in municipal problems may attend the meetings, which are open to the public. The sessions will be held in the city hall in Newburgh.

Oldest Mechanical Arts Institution in the U. S.

The Franklin Institute was founded in 1824 at a meeting of citizens held in Congress hall, Philadelphia and is the oldest institution in the United States devoted to the study and promotion of the mechanics, arts and applied sciences. Two young men, Samuel Vaughan Merrick and Dr. William H. Keating, son of a French baron and later one of the leading scientists of the University of Pennsylvania, were primarily responsible for the organization, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

Classes of instruction were held for 100 years and discontinued in 1924. The studies are continued in the Central high school. Exhibitions of manufacturers have been held, and scientific research is carried on extensively. It has a library of more than 80,000 volumes and 20,000 pamphlets. Its record of American invention is the most complete outside the files of the United States patent office.

Through the joint efforts of the Franklin Institute and the Benjamin Franklin Memorial, Inc., sponsored by the Poor Richard club, a site was purchased and building erected as a memorial to the great Benjamin Franklin to house a scientific and technical museum which was dedicated as the Benjamin Franklin Memorial and Franklin institute.

Food Names a Puzzle

Plain American food masquerading under a foreign name often confuses the average diner. Perhaps he doesn't care for leftover lamb reheated in brown sauce with curry and mustard, but if he orders rechauffe of lamb, that is what he is going to get. If he doesn't like onions, he had better avoid anything with a "soubeise" attached on the menu, and if he doesn't like grand mixtures of food he must be wary of "Macedoine." Pork chops "Florentine" are certain to be accompanied by spinach, as are "eggs Florentine." Salmon "a la Mornay" will be baked with mashed potatoes, Swiss cheese, egg yolk, white sauce, and bread crumbs. And sauce "au beurre" is simply butter sauce.

Trees Form Society

A unique association in the South is The Live Oak society, whose membership consists of about 100 giant oak trees, says a writer in Collier's Weekly. To be a member a tree must be very old, have a legal representative, adhere to the constitution and bylaws and pay annual dues of 25 acorns. The secretary is a gentleman in Lafayette, Louisiana, and the president is a large tree on a farm near New Orleans.

Queen's Endowment

In ancient Egypt a queen's endowment consisted of donating to the priests 15 loaves of bread daily, 13 vessels of beer monthly and three oxen annually. And the queen undertook that this would be continued by her children and children's children forever on penalty of being slain by the sword if they failed the bequest.

The real founder of Manchu power was Nurhachi who proclaimed himself emperor in 1616 and established his capital at Mukden in 1625.

Gypsies Slaves in Time of Alexander the Great

About a million in number, gypsies are extremely vague about their own origin, which until recently defied research. Most experts, according to a correspondent in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, are now agreed that before the time of Alexander the Great the gypsies lived in India—the same race as the "Jats" or "Zotts" hailing from the mouth of the Indus in extreme western India. The "Sudras," as they were then called, were considered untouchables by the high-caste Hindus who conquered the country.

Subsequently, Alexander the Great, on his expedition to south-eastern Persia, probably brought back large numbers of gypsies, who must have made valuable slaves because of their knowledge of working iron, a new and rare art in those times. The fact that gypsies all over the world still count in Greek tends to substantiate the theory of their early arrival in the Balkan region. In Macedonia at this period also were numerous Egyptian slaves, with whom undoubtedly the gypsies inter-married to some extent, and when they later set forth on their wanderings, anxious to forget their miserable existence in India, they told people that they were from Egypt.

Their tendency toward fortune-telling, sleight of hand and other magic which Europeans associated with Rumanians probably accounts for the names Rom and Romany, so frequently applied to them. They are variously called also Ziganes, Zigeuner, Czigany, Calos, Bohemians, Zingaries.

Ghost of William Tell Walks in a Swiss Town

The ghost of William Tell walks in Aaldorf, a town of approximately 4,200 inhabitants near the southern end of Lake Lucerne, in Switzerland, notes a correspondent in the Detroit Free Press. It is surrounded by lofty, snow-capped mountains. On the slope behind the town the Bannwald (banned forest), mentioned in Schiller's play, serves as a protection against avalanches. Aaldorf is famous as the place in which the great marksman, having incurred the ire of the tyrannical Austrian bailiff Gessler, was commanded to demonstrate his skill by shooting an apple from the head of his young son. In the open square a colossal bronze statue of Tell commemorates his intrepid deed. Questioned about a second arrow in his quiver, Tell is said to have remarked that it was intended for the bailiff's heart had the first arrow harmed his son. He was promptly seized and was to have been taken by boat across Lake Lucerne to a prison in Kussnacht. Tell escaped on the way.

Mail Thousands of Farm Applications

Ithaca, Nov. 23—Ten thousand applications from New York state have been mailed to Washington for payments in the agricultural conservation program, according to a statement by C. G. Bradt, state administrator. Additional applications are being mailed from the state office in Ithaca at the rate of 500 a day, and go to Washington for audit.

Farmers throughout the state who are taking part in the program are urged to complete all of their practices at once so they may receive a farm inspection without delay. Mr. Bradt points out that the state committee is anxious to send to Washington as many applications as possible before December 1 so that farmers may receive payments without a long wait.
